

whisker: the range across swept configurations and repeat builds, not a confidence interval. JHQ's bar is its one cold training plus its median encode: training is cached after a dataset's first row, encoding is not and re-runs every row. All indexes train the coarse quantiser at 39 points a centroid.