

whisker: the range across swept configurations and repeat builds, not a confidence interval. JHQ is a cold build -- later rows of a dataset hit the trained-state cache and report 26 ms, so the bar is the maximum, not the median. All indexes train the coarse quantiser at 39 points a centroid.